

Notice Concerning the City's Zoning Code Overhaul Process

As the City of Mobile moves forward with the overhaul of the zoning code and subdivision regulations, please consider that the documents provided to the public for review are preliminary, working drafts. It is anticipated that the process of revising and editing the draft Articles of the Unified Development Code will continue over the next several months, prior to the presentation of documents for consideration by the Mobile City Planning Commission and Mobile City Council.